

A photograph of an outdoor cooking area. In the foreground, there is a grassy field with several small green bushes. In the middle ground, there are two covered structures. The one on the left has a brown metal roof and concrete pillars. The one on the right has a dark grey tiled roof and wooden pillars. In the background, there is a dense forest of tall, thin trees under a clear sky. A green thought bubble with the text '炊事場' is positioned in the upper right area of the image.
